DRAFT – Subject to Approval by Board of Trustees

Minutes of the Forty-Ninth Annual Corporate Meeting of Members May 23, 2015

- Notice of the meeting having previously been given as required by law, the Center's Abbot and President, Roshi Bodhin Kjolhede, called the meeting to order. The polls were then opened for the election of David Kernan or Thomas Kowal to a three-year term as Trustee. It was announced that the polls would remain open for at least one hour, as required by law. Roshi then reported that the Board of Trustees had re-elected Kathryn Collina to a three-year term as Trustee. The Center's other continuing Trustees are Cecily Fuhr, Sensei Gerardo Gally, Chris Pulleyn, and Thomas Roberts. Roshi noted that under the Center's by-laws, the Board of Trustees, which administers the Center's financial affairs, consists of six members who serve for staggered three-year terms: three elected by the Center's members, two elected by the Board of Trustees, and one appointed by the Abbot. The Board's current Chair is Tom Kowal. Finally, Roshi reported that the Board had recently elected the following as the Center's corporate officers for the coming year: President Bodhin Kjolhede; Vice President Jeanette Prince-Cherry; Secretary Scott Jennings; and Treasurer Colleen O'Brien.
- The Center's Business Manager and Corporate Secretary, Scott Jennings, announced that copies of the Board of Trustees' annual financial report required under section 519 of the New York Not-for-Profit Corporation Law were available to all members of the Center. That report is filed as Appendix A to these minutes. Scott then presented a summary of the report to the meeting on behalf of the Board, including the information filed with these minutes as Appendix B. The Center's full annual financial reports are available in the "Meetings and Finances" section of the Center's website (www.rzc.org/communications/meeting-minutes).

Scott reported that the Center's 2014 operating revenues were $395,975, or 100 percent of the total budgeted. Operating expenses were $461,804, or 99 percent of the total budgeted. Accordingly, after including as operating income a five-percent operating draw of $57,371 from investments, the Center had an operating deficit of $8,458 for 2014, rather than the $15,800 deficit that had been predicted when the 2014 budget was approved. Viewed alternatively, for 2014 the percentage operating draw from the Investment Fund required for no operating surplus or deficit was 5.7 percent, rather than our target of five percent. From 2009 (the year we instituted our current accounting procedures) through 2014, the Center has accumulated an operating surplus of $31,587, based on a five percent lagged-average operating draw from investments.

Looking at revenues, although 2014 membership contributions ($180,600) were lower than in 2013 ($182,649), Chapin Mill net rental income reached an all-time high of $60,532 in 2014. On the expense side, utility costs were higher than anticipated at both Arnold Park and Chapin Mill on account of unusually long and cold winters. However, these expenses would almost certainly have been even higher, were it not for the high-efficiency insulation that we installed over the past few years in a number of our buildings.

Scott noted that in 2014 the cost of employee health insurance plus associated medical and dental expenses ($97,644) substantially exceeded the total amount of the salaries and retirement contributions for Roshi and all 18 other employees ($77,345). The Center's Trustees and Officers are investigating possible ways in which health insurance expenses could be reduced so that the Center could accommodate the increased numbers of applicants for residential training at the Center, while at the same time avoiding annual operating deficits.

The Investment Fund performed reasonably well in 2014, increasing by $102,045, or 8.2%, before subtracting a five percent operating draw of $57,371. The net increase after the operating draw was $44,674, or 3.6% of the Fund's beginning balance.

Reviewing historical data, Scott explained that the substantial decrease in the combined Operating and Investment Funds balance in 2005 (see Appendix B, page B4) represents the fundraising shortfall for Phase I of the Chapin Mill Retreat Center building project and that the further decrease in 2008 represents the combined effect of the Phase II fundraising shortfall and a recessionary decline in stock prices. The subsequent rise in the combined balance since 2008 largely reflects the recovery of the stock market, as well as several generous gifts to the Center's Investment Fund.

◆ Chris Pulleyn, who serves both as a Zen Center Trustee and as Chair of the Development and Outreach Committee, reported to the meeting on behalf of the Committee. With regard to the Center's long-term financial health, Chris noted that the Trustees have set a goal of increasing the Center's endowment from its current level of $1.3 million to $2 million. This would increase the Center's annual income (at a five percent operating draw) by $35,000. Unfortunately, money to increase an organization's endowment tends to be difficult to raise; accordingly, the Center is encouraging Sangha members to contribute to the endowment by remembering the Center in their wills.

Chris reported that the Committee meets approximately monthly and that its current focus is largely on working with the Special Events Committee on plans for the Center's fiftieth anniversary in 2016. Since the Chair of the Special Events Committee, Donna Kowal, was away on a trip to Poland, Chris reported on plans for the anniversary celebrations. The main anniversary events will take place on the weekend of July 1-4. The weekend will start with an informal gathering on Friday evening. A commemorative ceremony will be held at Arnold Park on Saturday, followed by a performance that evening by Friend-of-the-Center and noted acoustic guitarist Leo Kottke. Mr. Kottke's free performance will be for Sangha members and friends and will likely take place at the University of Rochester's Memorial Art Gallery. Sunday's events at Chapin Mill will feature a picnic and the unveiling of a major art work for the Retreat Center courtyard by Todd McGrain, the sculptor who created both the centerpiece for the Arnold Park Founder's Garden and the sculpture "Spinning Still," which is installed by the Chapin Mill pond. The fiftieth anniversary celebrations will also include an exhibit of photographs and memorabilia relating to the Center, as well as a lecture by noted researcher and author Dr. Jon Kabat-Zinn, the originator of mindfulness-based stress reduction, a program offered by many medical centers and hospitals. Dr. Kabat-Zinn's lecture will take place on October 15 at the Hochstein Performance Hall in Rochester. In preparation for the anniversary celebrations, Roshi has invited fellow Zen teachers, Chris will coordinate the notification of former members from the Center's early years, a fiftieth anniversary page will be added to the Center's website, and notices will be placed in Buddhist publications.

- Tom Kowal, who serves both as Chair of the Zen Center's Board of Trustees and as Chair of the Facilities and Sustainable Operations Committee, reported to the meeting on behalf of the Committee. Center Vice President Jeanette Prince-Cherry has developed a MAPP (Maintenance and Preservation Program) book for Chapin Mill. A similar MAPP book, which compiles and catalogues all the various periodic maintenance tasks necessary for the proper care of buildings, equipment, and grounds, was developed for Arnold Park in the 1980s. Jeanette is currently putting the finishing touches on the Chapin Mill MAPP book and has been working closely with Chapin Mill staff members on the project. Tom reported that although the Committee had continued to investigate the possibility of installing a solar-panel electric generating system at Chapin Mill, such a project is not financially feasible at the present time in view of technological, regulatory, and tax constraints. However, the Committee will monitor developments and report to the Board if such a project becomes feasible in the future. The Committee has been tracking energy use for the Center's various buildings, and Committee members Devin Wiesner and Bill Lindenfelser have been tracking the costs associated with use of Zen Center vehicles. An energy-efficient hot-water recirculation system has been installed in 5 Arnold Park, a new high-efficiency furnace has been installed in the Buddha Hall, and we'll soon be replacing the deteriorated Buddha Hall roof, which is at the end of its useful life. Through a utility company rebate program available to religious and other organizations, almost all the lights in the Arnold Park buildings have been replaced with energy-efficient and long-lasting LED (light-emitting diode) bulbs at no cost to the Center. We hope to be able to do the same with the buildings at Chapin Mill. Finally, the Committee has been examining security issues at Chapin Mill, with an eye toward finding an appropriate balance between maintaining easy access to the property and ensuring that prudent security precautions are in place.
- ◆ Tom Kowal also reported on behalf of the Columbarium Task Force, of which he is a member. The Board of Trustees has assigned the Task Force the project of constructing a memorial garden at Chapin Mill where urns containing ashes of the deceased can be placed in a columbarium. Both a beautiful site to the east of the Chapin Mill pond and a general design concept have been selected.

The Task Force has been working on the project with Sangha member Eric Higbee, a landscape architect with experience in designing public landscapes of various types and scales.

- ◆ Zen Center staff member Keith Carpenter reported that the Center's Kannon Committee has been revived and that Keith will now be serving as the Committee's coordinator. The Committee is a group of Sangha members who volunteer to help with occasional meals, errands, or transportation for members who are ill or temporarily disabled. John Pulleyn, the Center's Head of Zendo, explained that the Committee had become dormant for want of requests for help, but that with a Center staff member now acting as coordinator, the Committee will be able to take a more proactive role in assisting Sangha members in need. Roshi noted that the Committee's goal is to be available to provide assistance without being obtrusive. In this regard, Roshi urged that Sangha members who either need help or know of other Sangha members in need of help contact Keith, so that the Committee can take appropriate action. Roshi also pointed out that in an individualistic culture such as ours, initiatives like the Kannon Committee can help encourage a more communal and interconnected relationship with others.
- A Roshi reported to the meeting regarding long-term planning for Chapin Mill. The Center's Board of Trustees held a meeting on February 20, 2015, at which Tom Kowal explained that over the past few years he and his wife, Donna, had held informal discussions with Roshi, Wayman and Eryl Kubicka, and others regarding the possibility of Tom's and Donna's living at or near Chapin Mill. This would allow Tom to work at Chapin Mill, while also keeping them within reasonable commuting distance of the State University of New York College at Brockport, where Donna serves as an Associate Professor in the Department of Communication. Tom also explained that he would like to help with long-term planning at Chapin Mill, while working there and learning from Wayman about systems and procedures relating to the management of the property and facilities. If Tom and Donna were to have their own home at or near Chapin Mill, this would allow Wayman and Eryl to continue living in the Chapin Mill farmhouse even if they transfer some or all of their responsibilities to Tom and Donna. At the February Board meeting, the Trustees acknowledged that it would be beneficial to the long-term stewardship of Chapin Mill for Tom and Donna to live on or near the property and for Tom to learn as much as possible from Wayman so that Tom, and possibly Donna, might succeed Wayman and Eryl at some future time.

At last weekend's [May 16 and 17] Trustees' meeting, Tom reported that in the course of discussions regarding these possibilities, Wayman and Eryl had suggested that the Center build a small house in the former "strawberry field" on the Chapin Mill property itself. This field is a clearing to the east of the barn and parking area, just to the south of the unpaved continuation of the Chapin Mill access drive. Our engineering consultant has already determined that the existing septic field at Chapin Mill could easily accommodate the addition of a two-bedroom house. Tom currently estimates that building such a house would require about $100,000 of materials. Donors have already expressed a willingness to give some $30,000 to $40,000 toward the project; the remainder would be raised through a private, targeted fund-raising effort. In addition, Tom would be willing to move to Chapin

Mill, join the Center's staff, and supervise the building of the house, while providing much of the labor. At the end of Tom's presentation, the Board asked Tom and Wayman to develop more detailed plans and proposals for the Board's consideration. Roshi commented that he can't think of better people than Tom and Donna to eventually succeed Wayman and Eryl.

At Roshi's request the Trustees also confirmed at last weekend's meeting that, absent unforeseen extraordinary circumstances, Wayman and Eryl may continue living in the Farm House at Chapin Mill, even if one or both of them should retire from active service as Zen Center staff members. This decision to provide a retirement home for the Kubickas at Chapin Mill recognizes their many years of extraordinary service to and support of the Zen Center.

◆ Eryl Kubicka, who serves as Chapin Mill Rental Coordinator, reported regarding Chapin Mill. The chimney of the Guest House has been repaired and rebuilt after the collapse of its interior clay-tile liner. Since the building's gas heater vents into the chimney, these repairs will allow us to use the Guest House in the winter during rentals and sesshins, as well as for personal retreats. As Tom Kowal reported, the new Chapin Mill MAPP book has been a real help for upkeep of the buildings and grounds, since it easily allows us to see what periodic maintenance needs to be done each month. Eryl also noted that it has been a great help to have more staff members working at Chapin Mill.

With regard to Chapin Mill rentals, Eryl reported that we are renting to ten different groups this year. Eryl noted that Sangha member Michael Krasner, M.D., Professor of Clinical Medicine at the University of Rochester Medical School, and his colleague Professor Ronald Epstein, lead two retreats each year focusing on mindfulness practice for health professionals. Dr. Krasner has also helped bring other rental groups to Chapin Mill.

Eryl reported that Center staff members Dan Esler and Catherine Kana have, with the help of other volunteers, greatly expanded the vegetable garden that they started at Chapin Mill last year. In preparation for the expansion, Dan attended classes at the Batavia branch of the Cornell University Cooperative Extension. This year's vegetable garden, which is already producing lettuce and other greens, also includes beans, eggplants, tomatoes, and sweetcorn.

Noshi reported to the meeting regarding spiritual affairs. Roshi first thanked the many Sangha volunteers for all of their efforts over the past year, with particular thanks to Tom and Donna Kowal. Roshi noted that the Center very much relies on Sangha volunteers for help with its operations and activities. Roshi next reported regarding affiliates and sister Cloud-Water Centers. The Auckland Zen Centre in New Zealand, Zenbuddhistika Samfundet (Zen Buddhist Association) in Scandinavia, Casa Zen in Mexico City, and the Berlin Zen Center in Germany – all sister Centers of the Rochester Zen Center – continue on steady courses. Roshi noted that although Auckland is in many ways a very costly city, the Auckland Zen Centre continues to make progress on adapting the building they have bought. Our sole remaining formal Affiliate Center, the Madison Zen Center in Madison, Wisconsin, has a stable membership and is doing well. Roshi usually visits the Madison affiliate twice per year, and Madison Sangha members often come to Rochester for sesshin and for residential training. In addition, Rick Smith, who formerly served as Affiliate Leader in Madison, has now joined the staff in Rochester.

In other news, Roshi reported that attendance at sesshins and introductory workshops has been slightly lower than in the past few years, but not significantly so. Roshi noted that next month's sesshin will likely be considerably larger than has been typical for June sesshin. This June's sesshin will last a full seven days and will be led by Roshi, rather than by a guest teacher. Roshi is considering the possibility of regularly leading June sesshin, but asking others to lead the 4-day sesshin held in December. Roshi also reminded sesshin applicants that they're always free to apply to attend part of a 7-day sesshin, rather than the entire week.

Roshi reported that Sangha member Jim Thompson has been leading a meditation group for inmates at the Monroe County Correctional Facility. Jim noted that many inmates at the Facility are participating in rehabilitation programs, many of which are for those with addictions. Roshi noted that Center staff members, as well as other Sangha members, have been helping Jim with the group. Also, Jim, Wayman Kubicka, and Sangha member Dwain Wilder have been working with a meditation group at New York State's Attica Correctional Facility. In addition, Roshi reported that the 12-step group meeting at the Center has been revived.

In other news, Roshi reported that the editor of the website sweepingzen.com has been working on a film about American Zen and will be interviewing Roshi for the film. As we have done a number of times over the years, the Center will be hosting the annual meeting of the American Zen Teachers' Association this summer. The meeting will take place the first week of August and will be held at Chapin Mill.

- Roshi introduced those Zen Center Trustees and Officers who were present at the meeting and mentioned that Sangha members who have questions or comments regarding the Center's finances or governance should always feel free to discuss such matters with any of the Center's Trustees or Officers.
- ♦ The Center's Secretary announced that the polls, which had been open for more than one hour, were about to close and that any member as of the April 16, 2015, record date who had not yet turned in his or her ballot should do so.

The results of the election for Trustee were as follows:

Tom Kowal 64
David Kernan 39
Spoiled Ballot 1

Total: 104 members present and voting in person or by written proxy; 441 members eligible to vote as of the record date.

Quorum: Under Article VII(E) of the Center's by-laws = lesser of 100 or one-tenth of the members eligible to vote = 44.

Accordingly, Roshi announced that Tom Kowal had been elected to a three-year term as Trustee.

Submitted to the Board of Trustees on July 23, 2015 by Scott Jennings, Secretary of the Center.

Appendix A

Annual Report of Trustees

Pursuant to New York Not-for-Profit Corporation Law Section 519

> Presented at the Forty-Ninth Annual Corporate Meeting May 23, 2015

The record date for the Center's 2015 Annual Meeting was April 16, 2015. As of that date, the Center had 441 members. The record date for the Center's 2014 Annual Meeting was April 23, 2014. As of that date, the Center had 447 members. Accordingly, the Center's membership has decreased by six during this period.

The names and places of residence of the Center's current members may be found in the records of the Center's Secretary.
